RISK APPETITE STATEMENT

RISK TOPIC	APPETITE STATEMENT
HEALTH &amp; WELLBEING 	The health and wellbeing of our people (including volunteers) is important to us. We have a low appetite for activities that put the physical and mental health of our people at risk.
PROJECT WORK 	We are opportunity focussed and have a high appetite to seek out initiatives that deliver on our core purpose, whilst maintaining our sustainability.
STAKEHOLDER MANAGEMENT 	Stakeholders are important to us and we have a low appetite for issues that impact on these relationships.
FINANCIAL RISKS 	Being financially stable ensures we can achieve our core purpose and improve the lives of others. We have a high appetite for meeting budget requirements and balancing our funding sources.
RESEARCH IMPACT RISKS 	Project and research outcomes help us create better futures for people with literacy challenges. We have a low risk appetite for project issues that impact on these outcomes.
OPERATIONAL SUSTAINABILITY 	We exist to improve the literacy of Tasmanians within our scope of service delivery. We have a high appetite for ensuring we remain sustainable so that we can meet their needs.
BRAND &amp; REPUTATION 	We have a low appetite for issues that negatively impact on our brand, reputation, our stakeholders, and that are within our span of control.
REGULATION &amp; LEGAL 	Managing our project and compliance risks is important for us. We have a high appetite for identifying issues ahead of requirements and engaging proactively.
GOVERNANCE 	We work together to ensure that governance for the organisation is collegial and built on mutual trust. We have a low appetite for decision making that limits our ability to govern and no tolerance to those that contain conflicts of interest.
